

THE AUTHORS

Larry L. Watts teaches in the Master's Program in Security Studies and Intelligence Analysis run jointly by the University of Bucharest and the Romanian Intelligence Service (SRI). He served as security sector reform advisor to Romania's Presidential Counselor for National Security and to the Romanian Defense Ministry during 1991-2004. Prior to that, Larry Watts was visiting professor at the University of Washington, Seattle and a consultant for the RAND Corporation. He is the author of With Friends Like These: The Soviet Bloc's Clandestine War Against Romania (2010), published in Romanian translation as Ferește-mă, Doamne, de prieteni. Războiul clandestin al blocului sovietic cu România (2011).

Lucian Jora, researcher at the Romanian Academy (The Institute of International Relations) senior counselor within the Romanian Ministry of Education at the Unit in charge with the European Union financial assistance for Human Resources Development. Previous appointments include visiting research positions at the Jagellonian University, Cracow, Poland 2002, The Center for Research on Europe Canterbury University New Zealand 2002, Shandong University, Jinan China 2007, Woodrow Wilson Center in Washington DC 2009.

Marouane Zakhir, PhD student at the University of Mohammed V Souissi, Faculty of Sciences of Education in Rabat. His interests are Sociolinguistics, Applied linguistics, Translation studies and Politics. He has published several articles on Translation. Currently, he is working on the issue of Language Education Policy in Morocco.

Muhammad Riaz Shad, PhD Research Fellow, Faculty of Political Science, University of Bucharest, Romania. Lecturer, Department of International Relations, National University of Modern Languages (NUML), Islamabad. The author is a PhD candidate at the Faculty of Political Science, University of Bucharest, Romania. He holds a Lecturer position at the Department of International Relations, National University of Modern Languages (NUML), Islamabad. His research interests encompass Pakistan's internal and foreign policy issues and EU's external policy vis-à-vis third countries. Currently, he is engaged in PhD research relating to EU-Pakistan relations.

Ion Goian, PhD, scientific researcher within The Institute of Political Sciences and International Relations, coordinator of the Political Sciences Department, professor associate at the "Ovidius" University, Constanța. Author of the books (selective): From Polis to the Ontology of the Politics (2001), Leo Strauss: The Art of Writing, Lecture Itineraries (2005), Machiavelli The Enigmatic One (2008), Machiavelli an Annotated Biography (2009), Polis and Political Philosophy (2009), and the coordinator of the Encyclopedia of the Fundamental Works of the Political Philosophy, vol. 1-3.

Viorella Manolache, PhD, scientific researcher III at the Romanian Academy, Institute of the Political Science and International Relations. Authored books: Romanian Postmodernity / Between Ontological Experience and Political Necessity, 2004; Political Blindness as a Heredity Syndrome, 2005; Fetishism. Hypostasis of the Romanian Cultural Press, 2006; Elitism. Modern Conceptualization, 2006; Antielites. Typical and Atypical Forms of Elitism, 2007; Romanian Political Elites, 2008, Elites in Marsh, 2009, Alternative Currents of the Prefix Post-Philosophical and Political Evaluations, 2010, co-author with Henrieta Anișoara Șerban — Mapping Marginality, 2010; The dynamics of the European Model regarding Creative Localism within Offensive Modernism (During the First Half of the 20th Century), 2011, Homo Posthistoricus: Philosophical and Political Profile, 2012. Coordinator of the international collective volume Center and Margin at the Mediterranean Sea (Political Philosophy and International Reality), 2009, Beyond Propaganda: A Historical and Political Instrumentation of the Romanian Film, 2011.

John Rual Comninos is a Gestalt Psychotherapist and Play Therapist as well as a Pastoral Psychologist. He initially studied theology (LIC. Th) and became a Presbyterian Minister and later studied Pastoral Psychology at Stellenbosch University (M. Th.) and Gestalt Therapy at UNISA and has extensive experience in trauma, he lectured broadly in Psychology at Huguenot College and lectured and supervised students in the Masters Programme in Pastoral Psychology at SU and in the Masters programme in Play Therapy at the Play Therapy Centre, Wellington.

Ana Maria Negoită, PhD in art history at CESI — University of Bucharest, specialized in Islamic architecture during Middle Age. She has a degree in art history at “The National University of Art” of Bucharest, also a Master degree in the same field. Her studies include scholarship in Islamic art PhD program at the Department of Oriental Studies, University “La Sapienza” – Rome.

Simon P. Oswitch teaches philosophy at Mesa and Chandler-Gilbert Community Colleges in Arizona (USA). He was educated at San Jose State University and the University of California, earning two degrees in philosophy; his main interest is the history of philosophy.

Marianna Papastephanou has studied Philosophy at the University of Cardiff (Wales) and Berlin (Germany). She has taught in the department of Philosophy at Cardiff and she is currently teaching Philosophy of Education at the University of Cyprus. She is the author and/or editor of books on political philosophy and author of numerous articles in Philosophy and Philosophy of Education Journals.

Henrieta Anișoara Șerban PhD from the Romanian Academy since 2006, and scientific researcher at the Institute of Political Science and International Relations of the Romanian Academy, and the Institute of Philosophy and Psychology “Constantin Rădulescu-Motru” of the Romanian Academy, Bucharest, Romania. She is correspondent member of the Academy of Romanian Scientists (ARS). Research interests: philosophy of communication, political communication, (soft) ideologies (feminism, ecologism, ironism). She has lectured at the Catholic University of Brussels (2000-2006, within the Academic Exchange Programme), and at Loughborough University (2006, within the same programme). She has articles published in both Romanian and English languages and books translated from English into Romanian (for instance, N. Chomsky's Failed States for Antet Publishing House, Bucharest, 2006). Authored books: The Political Language in Democracy, 2006; The Paradigms of Difference in the Philosophy of Communication. Modernism and Postmodernism, 2007; Mapping Marginality (with Vioarela Manolache), 2010 and Reforming Ideologies, 2010. In 2011, co-ed. of Categories and concepts in the Philosophy of Science, “Constantin Noica” Prize, 2012, from ARS.

Anca Mot, PhD in Political Sciences of the Université de Montréal (2004), she also received her Master degree in the field of international relations in the same university (1999). She was researcher at the Université Libre de Bruxelles during 2004-2005, through the Postdoctoral Fellowship award by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada. Chargée de cours in the Department of Political Sciences at the Université de Montréal (2001-2004; 2005-2006), she is at present assistant at the Faculty of Public Administration, National School of Administration and Political Science (SNSPA), Bucharest.

Diana Cojocaru graduated from the Faculty of Foreign Languages (Bucharest University), with a major in Spanish and a minor in German, Master's Degree in Intercultural Management from the UNESCO Chair in Bucharest. Research interests in multiculturalism, international relations and diplomacy.

Valentin Trifescu (Trifesco), art historian, cultural historian, Ph.D student at Universitatea „Babeş-Bolyai” of Cluj and Université de Strasbourg with the thesis Regionalismul în istoriografia de artă. Valorizarea patrimoniului artistic din Alsacia și Transilvania în prima jumătate a secolului al XX-lea. He has published Bisericile cneziale din Ribița și Crișcior (începutul secolului al XV-lea), Editura Eikon, Cluj, 2010 and coordinated the volumes Confluente și particularități europene (Cluj, 2010) and Austrian Influences and Regional Identities in Transylvania, edited by François Bréda, Valentin Trifesco, Luminița Ignat-Coman, Giordano Altarozzi (Bratislava-Frauenkirchen, 2012). He is also the author of several articles whose topic is cultural regionalism in Alsace and Transylvania in the 20th century.